Dick was my youngest uncle. Only 11 years older than me. I have fond memory's going back almost 75 years! In the late 1940's when he was a teenager, he lived with us in Baltimore before he went into the Air Force. In 1948 he took me to the Hippodrome theater in downtown Baltimore to see a live stage show by Gene Autry. We have reminisced about it many times over the years. As a teenager he had a couple of professional baseball gloves , gave me a 1st baseman's glove when he went into the service. Didn't have it long, somebody stole it off the handlebar of my bicycle. So sad, the last of a generation. Ron Seiss
