Miss Mary and her daughters are always a bright ray of sunshine. Her wonderful perspectives were always a joy whether seeing me at the fair or in my boutique. I remember her telling me last year at the fair that when this day was to come to wearing something bright/colorful to celebrate her. I know she is in a much better place and I am so blessed to have met her. She was a wonderful mom and her loving spirit lives on in her daughters and grandchildren. For Miss Mary, I will shine bright today!

That is just like Mary, to celebrate her life BY NOT wearing black! What a joy it was to meet Mary and her daughters on my Tater Tours! The laughs and great fun that we had will always be remembered! Playing Phase 10 card game was also a joy for her and especially Karen. She can now look down from heaven and see that we are all happy for her, that she does not have to suffer any more on this beloved earth.
