Obituary

Mr. Kaung Htut of Gaithersburg, MD, passed away peacefully after losing his battle with cancer on August 2nd, 2021 at Ar Yu International Hospital in Yangon, Myanmar at the young age of 40.

Kaung is survived by his mother, Sanda Khin and brother, Htet Lin. He leaves behind a grandmother, aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, and nephews.

He was born on July 21st, 1981 in Yangon, Myanmar and graduated from BEHS 2 Bahan (NanYan). Moving to the United States in 2001 for his education, he attended the University of Maryland, College Park where he received his Bachelor's degree in Finance and Accounting.

Kaung started his career in banking at Capital One Bank in the United States, however in 2013 his career took him back to Yangon where he took on a role as head of Retail Banking at Yoma Bank. He left Yoma as Head of Retail Products, and helped start the Green Alliance Energy Company in February 2018 where he took on the role of Chief Financial Officer. Kaung's calling in the banking industry took him back to the Myanmar Citizens Bank in August 2019, where he worked as Senior Vice President and Head of Retail Banking. In January of 2021, he found the perfect balance between his life in the USA, and his life in Myanmar, where he was employed by MasterCard as the Countryhead and Business Development Manager for Myanmar.

Obituary

Kaung Htut

JUL 21, 1981 - AUG 2, 2021

Kaung was a gentleman with a kind heart, who could be seen laughing and smiling in all videos and pictures he was in. He enjoyed spending time with family and friends, singing, playing the guitar and drums in his spare time. He was active in the Myanmar community, regularly donating time and money to various charities and sponsoring the educational needs of Myanmar children.

Looking out for others, but never forgetting his family and friends, he always put them first in his life.

Buddhist Funeral Blessing for Kaung Htut will be held from 10am to 11am on Tuesday, August 24th at the Resthaven Funeral Home and Community Center, and burial service will follow immediately after at 11am at Resthaven Memorial Gardens, 9501 Catocin Mountain Hwy. in Frederick, MD.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that a donation be made in Kaung Htut's honor at a cancer organization of your choice.

To send flowers to the family, please visit our floral store.

In Loving Memory Kaung Htut Your SpiritBy Tram-Tiara T. Von ReichenbachI know that no matter whatYou will always be with me.When life separates usI know it is only your soulSaying goodbye to your bodyBut your spirit will be with me always.When I see a bird chirping on a nearby branchI will know it is you singing to me.When a butterfly brushes gently by me so care freelyI will know it is you assuring me you are free from pain.When the gentle fragrance of a flower catches my attentionI will know it is you reminding meTo appreciate the simple things in life.When the sun shining through my window awakens meI will feel the warmth of your love.When I hear the rain pitter patter against my window sillI will hear your words of wisdomAnd will remember what you taught me so wellThat without rain trees cannot growWithout rain flowers cannot bloomWithout lifes challenges I cannot grow strong.When I look out to the seaI will think of your endless love for your family.When I think of mountains, their majesty and magnificenceI will think of your courage for your country.No matter where I amYour spirit will be beside meFor I know that no matter whatYou will always be with me.

I remember Kaung Hut when he first started his career in banking in Maryland - moving upwards, transitioning into the finance world in DC, and eventually securing a banking management position in Yangon, which was only the first step in building his career and business in Myanmar. The one thing that stands out with him was his drive, and motivation to succeed and move up on to bigger and better things. He was never hindered by the same set of self doubt that plagues most of us. He was extremely confident in what he knew, and he would convince you of his confidence and abilities in things he did not know. He was never afraid to reach higher. And yet the only things greater than his drive for success was his intelligence, and his loyalty to friends, and above all, family. Though one of the youngest in his family, he was quite beyond his years and held himself to seem much older. He was always the diplomat, the peacemaker, the loyal son, the reliable nephew, the caring grandson, and the friend and brother you could always count on. I remember our conversations in Yangon, looking for the common business thread that would launch both of us onto the cover of Forbes or something like that. He always had glowing words of encouragement for me, somehow he thought I should have been just as self-confident as he was. He had a strong knack for knowing how to build relationships, which he ultimately used to build his successful career. We'd talk about business, life, and politics. We'd have long conversations about philosophical ideologies, knowing there weren't many others in Myanmar we could share our thoughts with. Thinking about those conversations, and that we will never have them again, and thinking about where he should have been in the future makes me extremely emotional, knowing the potential that was lost when my cousin passed away. He was taken from us way too soon, and he will be missed

Rest in peace my brother, my friend, sometimes a rival. We have things in common, also we are very different. We didn't play sports together. But we talked alot, especially when we were both drunk. There are conversations that only you and I can understand. I miss our conversations. You are very ambitious. Always want to get higher. You like math & financial stuffs. Me? Absolutely not. I'd love to see you move up the ladder then retire at 60 with things I probably can't afford. You traveled back to your birthplace to improve things. I traveled to serve the country that I love. You traveled all over Burma and the world on business, brushing shoulders with financial big wigs. I love listening to your adventures. You loved my different kind of adventures. You dreamed about big, really big things. But my brother, I will miss you dearly. Every dumb things will remind me of you. The rolling greens of golf, fancy cars, hi tech toys, Tool, Rush. Rest in Peace Brother till we meet again.
