O bituary

Sylvia V. Logan died at her home on Saturday, July 4, 2015. She was born in Chicago on May 9, 1921, the daughter of Otto and Marie Ericson (both deceased). She was preceded in death by her husband of 47 years, Robert B. Logan. She was also preceded in passing by her brother, Richard Ericson, her son, Lawrence L. Logan and daughter-in-law, Donna C. Logan, and brother-in-law, August Borghesi. She is survived by her sister, Phyllis Borghesi, daughter Barbara Miles, son John R. Logan, his wife, Debra, and grandchildren, Jennifer Barrick, Josh Logan and wife, Melissa, Matthew Miles and wife Christie, Katie Hodge and husband John, Kyle Logan, and Kevin Miles and wife, Jessica. And also 3 great grandchildren, Logan Barrick, Carter Miles and John "Trip" Hodge, III. She was devoted to all her family. She was a homemaker but held several jobs, one she especially liked was soldering transistor radio parts for Simpson Electric in the early 40's. She found joy in volunteering at her church in Silver Spring, being a Girl Scout leader and playing cards and bingo, and participating in several bowling leagues. She also enjoyed watching and providing "at home commentary" for the Orioles and Ravens. Her optimistic attitude kept her active and young. Inurnment will be at Resthaven Memorial Gardens in Frederick, MD with a private family gathering at a later date. In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to Hospice of Frederick County, PO Box 1799, Frederick, MD 21702 or an organization of your choice.
